

2019 Teacher of the Year
Danielle Ratzlaff

Mrs. Ratzlaff teaches math here at East Coweta High school. She is currently in her fifteenth year of teaching, fourteen of those as a part of the purple and gold! She has taught all grade levels with concentrations on the geometries and the algebras. She received her degree in Mathematics from the University of West Georgia in 2004. She then went on to receive her Masters in Secondary Mathematics Education in 2013. In 2015, she furthered her education by receiving a Specialist Degree in Teacher Leadership from LaGrange College. Over the years, Mrs. Ratzlaff has been a part of many initiatives here at EC and currently takes on the position of Department Chair. Mrs. Ratzlaff spends much of her time helping her students with their math classes and being a mentor and cheering them on. She often says, "Once my baby, always my baby". Mrs. Ratzlaff resides in Newnan with her husband and three children who keep the family busy with all their extra curricular activities.
