This year we have 3 great shows:

Oh, What A Tangled Web written by John R. Carroll

Directed by Christy Hauert (East Coweta High School Chorus Teacher)

On an impulse, a young girl makes up a story, and the complications that result from it are extremely funny. Suddenly needing an excuse, the girl fumbles for a moment and then blurts out that there has been a death in the family. Actually, the only thing wrong in this family is that the cat is missing. In any case, people start coming over to express their concern and sympathy. The parents think they're referring to the missing cat and the hilarious complications just continue to multiply!

Making Nice written by Alan Haehnel

Directed by Dr. Richard McMichen (Retired Drama director at East Coweta)

The curtain opens on Cymbeline, lost in the dark woods, calling plaintively for rescue as wolves prowl closer and closer. All of a sudden, No, no, no! rings out from the back of the theater and a disgruntled, dictatorial director barges down the aisle, furious at the actress, the cast, and the entire crew! She commands, No one leaves the theater until this production is beaten into shape. The abused and beleaguered cast and crew are forced to comply. Enter two representatives from OSHA theatre division: The new government agency charges the director with jeopardizing the emotional safety of the cast and crew. The director who had been accustomed to using her venomous tongue at will suddenly has to make nice or have the production shut down. Then problems avalanche in this hilarious comedy.

All's Well That Ends As You Like It written by Michael Green

Directed by Scott Ondovchik

From the volume Four Plays for Coarse Actors (where everything which can go wrong in a production does so) this comedy (inspired by William Shakespeare) pushes the genius of the Bard to its utmost limits while filching lines from most of his plays. Cues are missed, effects fail, props are lost or in the wrong place, furniture and scenery collapses but the Coarse Actors struggle gamefully on throughout the play.

- For those who are interested in joining Advanced Academic Club, there will be a meeting next Monday, Sept. 25 in Room 142 right after school in Mrs. Taylor's. Advanced Academic Club helps you raise money to pay for your AP exams in the spring. Come join us to learn more.
